- tako lepo se da v njih nizati hierarhije dolgega besedila,
  - pa četudi slednje ne ponuja ničesar zanimivega ali pomembnega,
- pomembno je le da je prosojnica čim bolj polna, da se izognemo praznemu prostoru,
  - čeprav bi bilo vendarle pametneje, če bi bilo besedilo natisnjeno na papirju in občinstvu dano vnaprej

— in rezultat

- je sestavljanje "slidokumentov", ki občinstvu namesto odpiranja oči zapirajo ušesa,
- ker večopravnost je mit, in
- večina ljudi ne uspe sočasno brati in poslušati,
- lahko pa gleda in posluša.

Learning to ride a bike

- Put training wheels on the bike
- Raise the training wheels
so you wobble
- Wear clothing and a helmet to protect yourself
- Remove the training wheels and practice falling on the grass
- Enjoy riding your bike wherever you need to go

Insert a representative picture or illustration of an audience member in this paragraph. It helps to put a face on the audience.

Seven Questions to Knowing Your Audience

- What are they like?
Demographics and psychographics are a great start, but connecting with your audience means understanding them on a personal level. Take a walk in their shoes and describe what their life looks like each day.
- Why are they here?
What do they think they're going to get out of this presentation? Why did they come to hear you? Are they seeking participants or mandatory attendance? This is also a bit of a situation analysis.
- What keeps them up at night?
Everyone has a fear, a pain-point, action in the wild. Let your audience know your compassion—and offer a solution.
- How can you solve their problem?
What's in it for the audience? How are you going to make their lives better?
- What do you want them to do?
Answer the question "so what?"—and make sure there's clear action for your audience to take.
- How can you best reach them?
People vary in how they receive information. This can include the set up of the room to the availability of materials after the presentation. Give the audience what they want, how they want it.
- How might they resist?
What will keep them from adopting your message and carrying out your call to action?
